TREE moot

London's only Forest Festival | Celebrating the Great North Wood

What makes Treemoot so special?

LOCATION

We are located at the Tree Rescue Hub and The Fort, amazing green spaces within the Great North Wood in Southeast London, 15 minutes train drive from London Victoria

The Tree Rescue Hub is a regeneration space where we rescue trees, nurse them and then replant across large scale reforestation sites throughout the UK

Gypsy master storyteller Richard O'Neill OBE at the Hub

COMMUNITY

Treemoot 2024 was a community festival organised by members of the local community, to represent the contribution of minorities in the protection of London's woodlands and wildlife. The 2024 edition celebrated the heritage of Gypsy, Roma, Traveller, and other minorities that have shaped the local landscape of Southeast London

African Tree Tales, performed by Leonard Mindore, Mercy Ette and Kamilu Hassan

ARTS

Treemoot 2024 featured commissioned new art created by Britain's foremost Gypsy, Roma and Traveller artists including Richard O'Neill, Damian Le Bas, Rhona Oughton and Laura Angela Collins

The background features several stylized tree graphics in a light green color. These trees have thick, rounded trunks and simple, rounded canopies. One large tree trunk is prominent on the left side, curving upwards. Other smaller tree trunks and canopies are scattered across the upper and middle sections of the page.
